Draft Depositor Compensation Scheme Regulations	1
Information pursuant to regulations 20 (5) and 21 (2).....	37
Draft banking rule pursuant to regulation 25 (4) (b) and 26 (3)	45

Introduction

The MFSA, as competent authority under the Banking Act, is publishing a draft set of regulations to implement Directive 2014/49/EU¹ of the European Parliament and of the Council on deposit guarantee schemes (“the recast DGSD”). These regulations, once approved, will replace the current set of regulations (Legal Notice 369 of 2003, the Depositor Compensation Scheme Regulations).

The recast DGSD was published in the Official Journal of the EU in June 2014. It introduces harmonised funding requirements (including risk-based levies), protection for certain types of temporary high balances, a reduction in pay-out deadlines, harmonisation of eligibility categories (including an extension of scope to cover deposits by most companies regardless of size) and new disclosure requirements. The DGSD is a largely maximum harmonising directive and therefore Member States have limited policy discretion except for areas which are mainly operational.

The draft regulations foresee the drawing up of a banking directive establishing MFSA’s rules concerning the risk-based method and the compensation contribution method which will govern the contributions levied against banks. MFSA rules concerning risk-based methods will be published in due course, whereas rules concerning compensation contribution and management expenses contribution methods are also being published as part of this consultation.

Summary of the main proposals concerning the regulations

- Membership – credit institutions licensed under the Banking Act, other than branches established in Malta by a credit institutions which has its head office outside the EU, are required to participate in the scheme.
- Eligibility – Very few types of depositors will be ineligible for compensation. Most corporate depositors will be protected under the scheme.
- Coverage – All deposit accounts will be covered by up to €100,000 or equivalent in any other currency. Coverage will be calculated on “per depositor per bank” basis. In the event of a pay-out, the scheme will pay compensation in euro and foreign currency deposits will be converted accordingly.
- Temporary high balances (THBs) – There will be temporary protection for deposits for up to 6 months in excess of the €100,000 limit for certain types of deposits classified as THBs. These include proceeds from sale of private residential property and life events (such as sums received from a life policy and compensation claims). THB protection will be up to €500,000.
- Speed of pay-out – This is reduced from 20 to 7 working days for most depositors, with full compliance by end of 2023. Until then, the scheme would be required to pay depositors of a failed bank a specific amount upon request being made by a depositor. The scheme may defer payment for up to three months in particular instances.

- Disclosure – There are new disclosure requirements for banks to inform depositors about the compensation arrangements, including use of a prescribed information sheet.
- Single customer view (SCV) – Banks will be required to mark deposit accounts in a manner which will facilitate the processing by the scheme of timely pay-out. In addition, banks will be required to adhere to prescribed technical standards in relation to the manner such information is maintained and processed by the scheme.
- Funding – The scheme will be funded by ex-ante contributions payable by participant banks and such funds may not be used for any other purpose except for paying compensation to depositors in the event of a default. Each bank will be risk-assessed and required to pay annual contributions in accordance with its risk-assessment. Over a period time, the scheme will be obliged to build a minimum target fund of 1.3% of the banks' covered deposits. Part of the scheme's funds may be limitedly held in low-risk assets by the banks as collateral in favour of the scheme.

The competent authority will also be issuing banking rules to supplement parts of the regulations. In this regard, it is currently preparing draft rules on the criteria which will be used to assess risk-based contributions. Such rules will be based on guidelines issued by the European Banking Authority.

This consultation is relevant to all banks operating in Malta, including those which operate on a cross-border basis. It is also relevant to depositors, as beneficiaries of deposit protection.

Interested stakeholders are invited to submit their comments on the draft regulations by not later than 30 September 2015.

(2) The maximum compensation sum payable for the aggregate deposits of each depositor is EUR 100,000, save that additional compensation may be payable in cases to which paragraph (3) applies.

(3) In addition to the maximum compensation sum payable pursuant to paragraph (2), the maximum compensation sum payable for a temporary high balance is EUR 500,000.

(A) it comprises:

- (a) monies deposited in preparation for the purchase of a private residential property by the depositor; or
- (b) monies which represent the proceeds of sale of a private residential property of the depositor; or depositor's claim that all or part of the eligible deposit in excess of EUR 100,000 qualifies as a temporary high balance;

(d) the date by which such written application and supporting evidence should be submitted to the Scheme.

(3) The Scheme shall pay compensation to a depositor in respect of a temporary high balance in accordance with regulation 10 (3) if it is satisfied that there is a sufficient link between an event giving rise to a temporary high balance and the part of the eligible deposit in excess of EUR 100,000, taking into account the following considerations:

(a) the written application and evidence provided by the depositor under paragraph (2); and

(b) any other information that the Scheme considers relevant.

CONSULTATION

Draft regulations transposing Directive 2014/49/EU on deposit guarantee schemes, and other ancillary rules giving rise to a temporary high balance and the eligible deposit in excess of EUR 100,000, the Scheme shall write promptly to that depositor to:

- (a) request, within such time as the Scheme may specify, any additional information that the Scheme considers necessary to determine the claim; or
- (b) confirm that the Scheme has determined that the deposit is not a temporary high balance, setting out the reasons for its determination and a summary of any right for reconsideration or appeal.

12 Calculating compensation

(1) Compensation shall be calculated by reference to eligible deposits held on the compensation date.

(2) The limit referred to in regulation 10 applies to the aggregate eligible deposits placed by a depositor with the same member, irrespective of the number of accounts, the currency, or the location within the EEA.

(3) The share of each depositor of a joint account shall be considered separately in calculating the limits provided for in regulation 10, except where paragraph (4) applies. In the absence of contrary provision, the joint account shall be divided equally among the depositors.

(4) Deposits in an account to which two or more persons are entitled as members of a business partnership, association, or grouping of a similar nature, without legal personality, shall be aggregated and treated as if made by a single depositor for the purpose of calculating the limit provided for in regulation 10.

(5) Where a depositor is not absolutely entitled to the sums held in an account and another person is absolutely entitled to such sums, the person who is absolutely entitled shall be entitled to compensation in respect of the deposit, provided that such person has been identified or is identifiable before the compensation date.

(6) Where several persons are absolutely entitled, the share of each under the arrangements subject to which the deposit is managed shall be taken into account when the limit provided for in regulation 10 is calculated.

(7) Liabilities of the depositor due to the member shall not be taken into account when calculating the repayable amount.

(8) Any compensation payable by the Scheme shall be calculated on the amounts credited to a depositor's accounts and on any interest which has accrued until, but has not been credited on the compensation date. Such compensation shall not exceed the limits referred to in regulation 10 in the aggregate. Provided that the payment of any tax liability on any such interest shall be the sole responsibility of the person receiving such compensation.

13 Time limits

(1) The Scheme shall pay compensation in respect of eligible deposits without a request to the Scheme being necessary within the applicable time period and as soon as reasonably practicable after:

- (a) it is satisfied that the conditions in regulation 10 (1) have been satisfied; and
- (b) it has calculated the amount of compensation due to the depositor.

(2) Saving paragraph (3), the applicable time period referred to in paragraph (1) shall be reckoned the day following the compensation date as follows:

- (a) 20 working days until 31 December 2018;
- (b) 15 working days from 1 January 2019 until 31 December 2020;
- (c) 10 working days from 1 January 2021 and until 31 December 2023.
- (d) 7 working days from 1 January 2024.

(3) The applicable period shall be three months reckoned the day following the compensation date in those cases where regulation 12 (5) and (6) applies or where the Scheme reasonably believes that regulation 12 (5) and (6) may apply.

(4) During the transitional period until 31 December 2023, where the Scheme cannot pay compensation within seven working days, the Scheme shall ensure that depositors have access to an amount, equivalent to three times the gross weekly minimum wage on the compensation date, to cover the cost of living, within five working days of a request from the depositor. The Scheme shall only grant access to the amount referred to in this paragraph on the basis of data provided by the member. Such amount shall be deducted from the compensation which may be payable.

14 Deferred payment

(1) The Scheme may defer the payment of compensation beyond the time period set out in regulation 13 where:

- (a) the deposit is a not active account;
